- Client-side filters

This example code shows how external menus can control this iframe through the embed JS API. This both pulls down filters and pushes click events back up to the host page to maintain context for cross-system links. Use this when the filters should be visible and editable.

Server-side filters

This example code accelerates the setup of safe data access controls and row-level security. This is a more scalable programmatic alternative to PDP and is future proof despite expanding cookie blocks by browsers. Use this when the filters should be invisible and immutable.
